TRICK DOG TEST

GUIDELINES FOR PARTICIPANTS & EVALUATORS

Version 1.3 - November 2023

KUSA's Trick Dog is designed to encourage people to develop a solid relationship with their dog through working with that dog. This will also encourage good pet ownership and improve the handler's training skills by diversifying the training they do. The test is designed to be all inclusive, catering for dogs of all ages and breeds (including cross breeds), as well as handlers and dogs of varying physical abilities. Trick Dog will expand a dog's physical and mental ability and offers an activity for older dogs that have been retired from other forms of competition. It is designed with the domestic pet owner in mind, encouraging them to spend more time with their dog and, hopefully, for them to ultimately become part of the KUSA family.

Purpose

The purpose of these Guidelines is to provide guidance on the way a trick should be performed and what the Evaluators will be looking for. Where possible, video examples will be made available on the Facebook page, and other key sites, to provide a visual guide. It should be noted, however, that this document, and the videos provided, are GUIDES. The rules of the test are covered in Schedule 11(C), which is available on the KUSA and Trick Dog website. This Schedule must be read in conjunction with this document and it will take preference should a discrepancy occur.

Definitions

Body length – this will be taken as the point of the shoulder to the back of the hind leg.

Chain tricks – the difficulty with these tricks is that only one cue may be given at the start of the tricks.

The dog may not be rewarded or praised in any form until the entire chain is completed. For example, on giving the cue 'fetch', the dog will go out, pick up the item, return to the handler, sit in front of the handler and hold the item.

Cue – a cue will be considered as a verbal / hand / body cue for the dog to perform the trick. Verbal and hand / body cue may be given unless otherwise specified. Where a handler is required to remain a certain distance from their dog, a step forward will not be permitted unless otherwise stated. Upper body movement is allowed but handlers should try and limit this for the higher levels unless a hand / body cue is being given. The actual cue given for each trick is at the handler's discretion, e.g. for a retrieve, the handler may say 'fetch', 'bring', 'get it' etc. Similarly, cues may be given in any language, e.g. English, Afrikaans, German, isiZulu etc.

Dog measurements –

Luring – the tempting of a dog to go to / do something by offering, or pretending to offer, a reward (e.g. a toy or food).

Pace – when the back legs pass where the front legs would be in a normal standing position, or vice versa. A pace is equivalent to a dog's body length. A pace for the handler would be a normal walking pace.

Platform – this should be a stable, non-slip surface that the dog can comfortably stand on and move around on (e.g. turn a circle).

Reward – rewards shall consist of any item considered a motivator to the dog including, but not limited to: balls, tugs, flirt poles, frisbee, food, petting etc. Dogs may be rewarded after each repetition of the trick performed unless the trick and/or description states otherwise.

Sequence – here a dog shall be required to perform a number of tricks in succession. Rewards in the form of food or toys may not be given until the end of the sequence, but the handler can give a cue for each stage of the sequence. For example, in the retrieve over a jump, the handler may use cues such as 'sit', 'stay', 'fetch', 'come', 'hold', 'give' but may only reward the dog once the retrieved item has been taken from the dog.

Treat – treats shall consist of any form of food that is considered a motivator to the dog.

Videos – it is necessary to show both the dog and handler performing the trick unless otherwise stated. Videos may only be trimmed at the start and finish to show the handler walking to and from the video camera. Where a number of repetitions are asked for, they must all be shown in one segment with no editing (apart from trimming the start/finish). It is advisable to label each trick to make it easier for the assessor. For tricks requiring distance work, e.g. a send to a platform, only a part of the handler needs to be shown with more emphasis on the dog. For tricks such as Chains and Hand signals, the whole of the handler must be shown.

Notes

Cues – unless specified in the trick, the number of cues allowed is as follows:

- Elementary – several cues (verbal and hand signals) may be given for each trick but if the cues are deemed excessive, it will be assumed the dog is not yet ready.
- Beginners through Advanced – the cue (verbal and hand signals) may be repeated but such repetition should be kept to a minimum.
- Champion – the dog should actively obey each cue.

How many times should a trick be shown?

To enable the Evaluators to assess competence vs getting 'one lucky shot', tricks should be shown once as described and repeated once again in succession, and without cutting the video in between takes. Where more than one action is required, i.e. orbit around handler twice, a total of 4 orbits need to be shown (2 orbits + repeat of 2 orbits = 4 orbits). Where specified, some tricks need only be performed once. When in doubt, check with an Evaluator.
