REGULATIONS FOR THE JUDGING OF THE SHOOTING RATINGS

1. PREAMBLE

- 1.1 Rules bind the Judges and are to be adhered to in all judgements.
- 1.2 Guides are not rules and are merely to assist judges in their interpretation of the rules.

2.1 GENERAL GUIDES, OBJECTIVES

2.1.1 The objectives of this document are: -

- 2.1.1.1 To promote greater understanding of the logic that goes to make up a Shooting Rating.
- 2.1.1.2 To achieve greater uniformity in the running of the Shooting Ratings.
- 2.1.1.3 To achieve uniform consensus in the judging of these Shooting Ratings and of the dogs that are competing in the Shooting Ratings.
- 2.1.1.4 To further the aims in so far that they are meant to improve and or maintain the working abilities of the HPRs entered.

2.1.2 The objectives of the Shooting Ratings are: -

- 2.1.2.1 To determine the merits of HPRs in the Shooting Ratings.
- 2.1.2.2 To bring to the notice of the public and to encourage the public to achieve a level of performance that is best suited for the HPR entered.
- 2.1.2.3 To provide a uniform test of the capabilities of the HPR entered to stimulate enthusiastic training and encouragement to be able to enter and qualify at Field Trials.
- 2.1.2.4 To conduct the Shooting Ratings on terrain and on quarry best suited to the H P R ' s performance, characteristics, and standards.
- 2.1.2.5 To keep a permanent record of individual dog's performances.
- 2.1.2.6 To encourage the public to keep the hunting instincts of the HPRs and to keep in mind that they are working Gundogs.

2.1.3 The objectives of judging the Shooting Ratings are: -

- 2.1.3.1 To judge a dog on its total performance. The performance is to be measured against an ultimate standard, which in turn is dictated by the breed performance, characteristic, and standard in relation to its intended functional use. Also, that the performance characteristic of the breed is not impinged upon.
- 2.1.3.2 That it is desirable that the dogs that are marked as passed be charged with no errors or faults. It is better practice to award a title to dogs that display all of the characteristics of the standard, even though it may have been noted that there were some minor errors or breach of manners. A dog should be named for quality and style rather than one that has shown errorless mediocrity.
- 2.1.3.3 The responsibility of the judges is to determine how they shall give merit to certain types of exceptional performances, and how they should penalize, because of various individual faults, or the repetition of the same faults or combinations of various faults.

Some faults by themselves are so serious as to justify failure, whereas others might require mentioning. Some faults may be so minor that to all practical purposes they could be ignored. Judges should bear in mind that minor faults could become serious faults through a repetition of or combination of faults.

- 2.1.3.4 Judging at the Shooting Ratings can best be described as an attempt to give an objective interpretation of the rules, with the view of passing the dogs who have acquitted themselves sufficiently on the day.

- 2.1.3.5 Much of the possible subjectiveness of the Shooting Rating could be overcome with the requirement that the successful judge has a firm grasp and full knowledge of the fundamentals and logic of the Shooting Rating. This could be complicated at times by the varying opinions as to what constitutes an acceptable standard for the dog's performance whilst competing for the various classes. Whilst it is probably impossible to put into words a standard of performance that will cover all spheres of the working abilities of the HPR, it is felt that the following should cover most aspects.

2.2 GENERAL GUIDE STANDARDS OF PERFORMANCE

- 2.2.1 The performance is one where every action of the dog denotes great interest in his work. It must be full of animation and at all times the dog must be searching for game in an independent and intelligent manner by using the wind and surroundings correctly and productively.
- 2.2.2 His performance must reflect a credit to his breed and the dog should move and run with a picture of grace and of effortless ease. The dog must have the desire to hunt, point and retrieve game with a passion that makes his work spectacular or at the very least pleasing. The dog must be controllable and self-controlling.
- 2.2.3 The dog serves best when covering the ground in a most proficient manner, taking into consideration the different types of cover and conditions as he comes across them. He must negotiate each type productively, going far, wide, fast, slow, close, and narrow as the conditions dictate. The dog must do this on his own accord, naturally or through training and experience.
- 2.2.4 He must retrieve the shot game on command in a reliable and expedient manner without unduly disturbing too much ground and should deliver tenderly to hand.
- 2.2.5 The dog should hunt and handle all accepted species of indigenous game birds, and above all must be in total harmony with his handler.

2.3 GENERAL GUIDE COMMON AREAS OF EVALUATION

2.3.1 Application

- 2.3.1.1 Application of these standards during the Shooting Ratings varies only in the matter of degree. For instance, it will not be expected that a dog entering in the Novice Shooting Dog or Novice Retrieving Dog shows the same quality and style as a more experienced dog that has entered in the Shooting Dog Excellent or the Retrieving Dog Excellent. The basic principles should apply generally across the board.
- 2.3.1.2 The judges must approach these common areas of evaluation (hunting pointing and retrieving as applicable) with the knowledge that each area relates in some way to the other area and no one area should be considered in isolation when judging the performance of the dog.

2.3.2 Use of nose

- 2.3.2.1 The quality of a dog's use of nose, more than any other single factor, determines its usefulness as a gundog. However, the quality of nose is not in itself sufficient. As a dog develops it must learn to use its nose if maximum effectiveness is to be achieved.
- 2.3.2.2 A dog that finds birds productively and repeatedly under various conditions has a good nose. Conversely a dog that must search for a long time where birds are abundant could be said to have a poor nose.
- 2.3.2.3 A short check of scent spots where game has been without pointing, indicates a good nose as well as the ability to discriminate between scents. Consistent "false pointing" i.e. assuming a pointing stance without producing game, is an indication that the dog has only a good to fair nose. Pointing dead game is also an indication of an uncertain nose in that the pointing instinct has overruled the scenting capabilities.
- 2.3.2.4 A dog that will locate a shot bird in high cover, particularly if the fall was obscured from the dog's vision, certainly displays a good nose.
- 2.3.2.5 The manner and course of a natural track can demonstrate the quality of a dog's nose. A dog that is able to follow a track for several hundred metres over varying terrain without seeing the game surely has a good nose. Another indication of a good nose is when a dog crosses a fresh track and acknowledges the scent and direction of the track.

- 2.3.2.6 A dog is said to have 'bumped' a bird when it runs into it and causes that bird to flush without the dog giving any indication that he was aware of the bird's presence. This is more likely to happen when the dog is hunting down wind in a stiff breeze. Under these conditions this should not be considered a major fault. To 'bump' a bird while working into the wind without showing any awareness that game is present is a strong indication of a poor use of nose, especially if it happens repeatedly.
- 2.3.2.7 The weather, ground and cover conditions, the type of game, even air pollution, are all factors to be considered while judging the dog. All these elements have an important influence on the dog's scenting ability.
- 2.3.2.8 The pointing instinct should not in itself be equated to the quality of the nose. An intense "Point" is a manifestation of desire and not nose. The distance between the pointing dog and the game should, however, be taken into consideration for the quality of a good nose.

2.3.3 Hunting

- 2.3.3.1 From the start to finish the hunting should indicate but one purpose, and that is to produce game for the gun. A good, experienced dog should leave you with the impression that no bird has been missed in all the terrain it has covered.
- 2.3.3.2 Little time should be wasted in searching obviously barren ground or to return to cover that has already been thoroughly searched.
- 2.3.3.3 An eager experienced cooperative dog will readily adapt to the terrain and cover, which it is being hunted in, and should not hesitate to search rough cover if the situation demands it.
- 2.3.3.4 Throughout the hunt the dog should display a keen desire to hunt, boldness and independence cover ground in an attractive style and must show stamina. Dogs that go to "Heel" before the end of the run, and from then on must be pushed by the handler should raise serious doubts about that dog's desire, basic hunting stamina and abilities.
- 2.3.3.5 Sufficient independence to leave the handler in order to check likely cover is desirable, particularly if the dog later checks back with the handler. The use of eyes to remain in contact with the handler is a natural result of the dog's desire to please.
- 2.3.3.6 The dog should conduct its hunting at a practical distance from the gun. Considerations of terrain, cover and other variables makes it so that a practical range could not be arbitrarily measured in metres. Rather it must be measured in terms of covering the maximum amount of ground cover, without the loss or control and without sacrificing the cooperation that must exist between hunter and dog. Needless to say, the uncontrolled running of a dog in the far distance is of little use to the hunter who is on foot. Likewise, to have a dog that stays so close to the guns that it would be considered an underfoot nuisance is also of little use.
- 2.3.3.7 The dogs hunting must take advantage of the wind conditions. Hunting down wind for excessive distances without turning into the wind to find game between the dog and the guns must be faulted. Likewise working into the wind for long distances without quartering is not using the wind to the best advantage.
- 2.3.3.8 The general pattern of hunting should be in a forward motion. However, working behind the guns as the guns move forward should not be faulted unless the dog continually persists in doing this. If the guns make an abrupt change of direction and the dog's passes to the rear of the guns in order to establish itself in front of the guns, it should not be faulted.
- 2.3.3.9 Dogs that repeatedly and definitely miss game during the hunting are to be severely penalised.

2.3.4 Pointing

- 2.3.4.1 This instinct must be clearly evident in a dog. Pointing and Hunting are the two major aspects of the dog's work before the shot is taken. An industrious "Hunt" and a productive "Point" are a thrilling spectacle. The pointing stance must be intense, convincing, and unmistakable as a "Point". A dog must not be favoured because his style is more attractive than another dog. At the end you are looking for a Point that is productive, (i.e. finding game).

2.3.4.2 A dog should not be faulted for creeping low to the ground to re-establish a "Point". Blinking (deliberately avoiding game) is to be faulted. Pointing then leaving the game before the "Flush" can be made is also to be faulted. Care should be exercised in the Novice Shooting Dog where allowances are made for this.

2.3.4.3 All "Points" should be on natural game; care should be exercised as to what age the dog is and in what test he is running. Older dogs in the Shooting Dog or Shooting Dog Excellent should be faulted for pointing on non-game species, whereas in the Novice Shooting Dog Test the aim is to see if the dog has any pointing instincts regardless of game contacted.

2.3.5 Steadiness on game

2.3.5.1 A good gundog should remain steady through the "Flush", "Shot" and "Fall" of the bird, until it has been commanded by the handler on the judge's instruction to retrieve the bird. A dog that has an obstructed view and moves forward after the shot in order to see the fall of the bird should not be faulted.

2.3.5.2 There must be a definite pause between the fall of the bird and the actual command to retrieve the bird.

2.3.6 Retrieve of shot bird/ saluted bird

2.3.6.1 On command the dog should go to the fallen bird. If the dog has to work for the scent of the shot bird this should not be faulted. The dog must pick up the bird and deliver back to the handler. Stopping to re-grip the bird should not be faulted. A dog that deliberately hard mouths the bird or crushes the rib cage in such a manner that it would be deemed unfit for consumption should be severely penalised.

2.3.6.2 In the SD and SDX Rating where a retrieve is required, if a bird is lost for the retrieve (e.g. if gunner misses a shot) a dead bird may be thrown as high as possible. As the dead bird reaches its maximum height, a shot is fired and the dog will be sent for the retrieve on the judge's command, as regulated in the particular Rating.

2.3.6.3 If a gun does not fire on a saluted bird retrieve, at the judge's discretion the dog may be sent for the retrieve and if fails will be re-tested.

2.3.6.4 Judges, guns and field stewards should refrain from talking to anybody whilst a dog is out working on a retrieve. They should furthermore be careful not to influence this phase of the test by moving around excessively, or by standing directly behind or in front of the handler thus confusing the dog. If the dog is clearly distracted by external influences, the judges may request a re-test.

2.3.7 Handling and obedience

2.3.7.1 Dogs should be under control at all times throughout the Shooting Ratings, even when not under the judge's orders. Competitors must realise the importance of a well-behaved and good-mannered dog. If in a field condition, there are dogs that for no reason deliberately attack other dogs this will have the effect of spoiling the day's shoot.

2.3.7.2 Serious and uncontrollable behaviour of a dog must be penalized by excluding the dog and/or handler from further competition and/or by ordering the competitor to forfeit any awards, positions or qualifications gained at the Ratings.

2.3.7.3 An experienced dog should be able to follow his handler's commands either by voice or whistle and should readily change course if the handler or the course so decides.

2.3.7.4 The use of any device, electronic device or simulated device that may influence the dog's action in the Ratings is forbidden.

3. RULES

3.1 NOVICE SHOOTING DOG RATING (NSD)

3.1.1 The purpose of this class is to determine whether young or "untrained" inexperienced dogs have hunting aptitudes.

- 3.1.2 Dogs to be run in Braces if possible/or feasible and must show desire to hunt, boldness and initiative in covering ground and searching in likely cover. It is not required to work in a systematic manner. Each dog must be given the opportunity to indicate the presence of game in a pre- arranged area either on the course, or in a bird field at the end of the rating.
- 3.1.2.1 This portion of the test is not designed to test bird-finding ability, but rather to judge the novice dog's reaction to the birds; therefore, birds should be placed in a manner that will afford every opportunity for contact and not block the judges view of the dog.
- 3.1.2.2 A shot is to be fired from a distance on game contact.
- 3.1.2.3 Any positive action (indication) is passable i.e. "Flushing", "Chasing", "Pointing", etc.
- 3.1.2.4 Refusing to acknowledge a bird's presence means failure of this part and no award shall be made.
- 3.1.3 Recognised game birds or pigeons may be used.
- 3.1.4 Dogs to be run on a "Pass" or "Fail" basis and must pass in all of the following categories to qualify for the class: -
 - 3.1.4.1 Desire to hunt.
 - 3.1.4.2 Boldness.
 - 3.1.4.3 Initiative and search.
 - 3.1.4.4 Indicating presence of game.
 - 3.1.4.5 Correct reaction to shot being fired. Must not show signs of being gun-shy.
 - 3.1.4.6 Reasonable obedience to handler's commands.
- 3.1.5 Dogs to be run for a maximum of fifteen (15) minutes. If dogs are moved on to a bird field they should not run for more than five (5) minutes.
- 3.2 SHOOTING DOG RATINGS (SD)
- 3.2.1 This class is to establish that a dog of any age has definite hunting ability, bird sense and show some field training.
- 3.2.2 Dogs to be run in Braces if possible/ or feasible, and must show a keen desire to hunt, be bold and independent, have a productive yet attractive style of running. Demonstrate not only intelligence in seeking objectives but also the ability to find game, and are to be judged on a "Pass" or "Fail" basis.
- 3.2.2.1 Shooting dogs must "Point" and must not "Flush" the bird. If the bird flushes wild, the judges can allow the dog to re-demonstrate his pointing ability. No verbal or physical commands may be used to encourage the dog to point or remain steady on point.
- 3.2.2.2 The dog need not be steady to "Wing" and "Shot".
- 3.2.2.3 The dog must make a direct retrieve of the bird. Delivery to hand is not required but the bird must be brought within reach of the handler. Stopping to re-grip the bird should not be faulted. Serious hard mouthing must disqualify the dog.
- 3.2.2.4 A dog interfered with on "Point" must be allowed to re-demonstrate its ability.
- 3.2.2.5 A dog that has deliberately interfered with a dog on "Point" or steals the bird from the "Retrieve" must be marked as failed.
- 3.2.2.6 Refusing to acknowledge a bird's presence means failure of this part and no award shall be made.
- 3.2.3 Recognised game birds or pigeons may be used.

- 3.2.4 Dogs to be run on a “Pass” or “Fail” basis and must pass in all of the following categories to qualify for the class: -
- 3.2.4.1 Keen desire to hunt.
- 3.2.4.2 Boldness and independence.
- 3.2.4.3 Cover ground productively and in an attractive style.
- 3.2.4.4 Seek objectives
- 3.2.4.5 Locate game.
- 3.2.4.6 Point.
- 3.2.4.7 Correct reaction to shot being fired. Must not be gun shy.
- 3.2.4.8 Retrieve and condition of the bird.
- 3.2.4.9 Reasonable obedience to handler’s commands.
- 3.2.5 Dogs to be run for a maximum of twenty (20) minutes. If dogs are moved onto a bird field they should not run for more than ten (10) minutes.

3.3 SHOOTING DOG EXCELLENT (SDX)

- 3.3.1 This is the top award offered under the Shooting Rating (for land work) and dogs qualifying must be finished, fully broken bird dogs. Their fieldwork should show the class and style expected of top HPRs.
- 3.3.2 A finished dog should be under control at all times. Any action that would disturb a hunt, test or trial will lead to immediate exclusion from further testing. Examples of undesirable behaviour:
- hunting exclusively for himself without contact with the handler (following track, disobedience)
 - barking, loud whining, restless and agitated behaviour
 - being controlled only by constant and loud commands
- 3.3.3 As some of these dogs may be Field Trial dogs, each dog should be judged accordingly and on an individual basis (care should be taken as not to compare one against the other) with neither being penalised as long as they remain under the control of their respective handler.
- 3.3.4 Dogs must be run in Braces and the test shall be set as close as possible as a natural shooting situation with all manners associated with that type of test required.
- 3.3.5 The dog must find a bird and establish a staunch point. The dog cannot be verbally or physically encouraged into the point.
- 3.3.6 Dogs encountering its Brace-mate on point must ‘Back’. Failure of a dog to ‘Back’ when it sees its Brace mate on “Point” must be heavily penalised. A dog that steals its Brace mate’s point shall be disqualified. The backing dog cannot be verbally or physically restrained or encouraged into backing or to be kept steady.
- 3.3.7 Dogs to be steady to “Wing Shot and Fall”. Neither the pointing nor the backing dog may be physically restrained or encouraged with loud commands to be steady. However, soft commands in a low voice are permitted.
No obstruction to stop the dog from breaking is permitted.
- 3.3.8 A reasonable move of a dog to mark a bird flushed after “Point” is acceptable, but this does not excuse a break or a delayed chase. Dogs may be collared out of the area if applicable to the situation after the pointing dog was sent for the retrieve.
- 3.3.9 Dog must make a direct retrieve. Retrieve to hand required.
- 3.3.10 Dogs to be run for a maximum of thirty (30) minutes. If dogs are moved on to a bird field they should not run for more than fifteen (15) minutes.

- 3.3.11 Dogs to be judged on a “Pass” or “Fail” basis and must pass in all of the following categories to qualify for the class. (Dogs must have class and a stylish performance)
 - 3.3.11.1 Keen desire to hunt.
 - 3.3.11.2 Boldness and independence
 - 3.3.11.3 Cover ground productively and in an attractive style.

Whichever type of bird is selected must be used throughout the class for all dogs entered in that class. A freshly killed bird shall be used for each Novice Retrieving Dog entrant in the land series.
 - 4.1.2 Dead birds may be used for the Retrieving Dog and Retrieving Dog Excellent test, BUT at least one (1) live bird per dog must be shot in each land test.
 - 4.1.3 At each gun station the live bird thrower should be backed by at least two (2) guns. The judges are to arrange the gunners’ stations depending on the class. On double and triple retrieves the birds are to be dropped from separate stations.
 - 4.1.4 The gun stations should preferably be hidden from the dogs either by natural foliage or by artificial means.
 - 4.1.5 Novice dogs may be worked up wind. Whenever conditions allow, in the Retrieving Dog and Retrieving Dog Excellent classes the dogs should be worked across or downwind to show the ability to work and hunt.
 - 4.1.6 On land retrieves the cover should be sufficient to completely hide the birds, but not so high and dense as to block the judges view of the dog.
 - 4.1.7 If at the judges’ discretion, a bird is declared to be out of bounds, the dog should be passed over and another dog run before the former dog returns for judgement. A bird can float out of bounds only one (1) time due to drifting and the dog’s failure to enter the water to complete the retrieve.
 - 4.1.8 Handling is permissible in all classes, but over handling, either by voice or whistle, shall be penalised at the judges’ discretion.
 - 4.1.19 If on a water retrieve the dog reduces the time required to complete the retrieve by intelligent use of the land, he shall not be penalised. Use of land for the mere purpose of avoiding the water shall be penalised.
 - 4.1.10 Objects may not be thrown into the water to encourage the dog to enter or to direct a dog. THIS IS A DISQUALIFICATION IN ANY CLASS.

5 Treatment of Captive Game

5.1 Housing of Game

Prior to the trial, game shall be kept in a sufficiently large cage or aviary, with adequate perches, to enable all the perching birds to fly and perch comfortably. Sufficient water and feed must be provided for each type of game at all times. Care should be taken to ensure that food and water containers are not easily upturned. The cage/aviary must afford shade and shelter from the elements at all times. With reference to ground birds, adequate space must be provided to meet their natural behavioural requirements.

Guide

Ground birds must have enough space in which to walk, eat and drink.

5.2 Keeping of Game at the Venue

Game to be used at the venue on the day must be transferred from the cage/aviary to crates (typically of the type used to transport chickens or pigeons) during the hours of darkness. An aviary should be used at the venue in cases where game is being kept for periods of more than a day.

Provision shall be made for water in each crate. Water containers shall be fixed to the crate preventing accidental spillage.

Guide

Fixing of water containers is best achieved by securing them to the sides of crates with cable ties.

5.3 All crates must be kept in shade and covered with hessian. Crates shall be kept flat (upright). In this regard, two people should always be deployed to carry crates with live game. Only required game should be temporarily stored a reasonable distance from the point of release. Unused game must not be stored in crates overnight.

5.4 The numbers of game per crate should never exceed:

- 20 Pigeons; or
- 6 Pheasants; or
- 6 Ducks; or
- 6 Guinea Fowl

Guide

The crate size shall be approximately 1000mm long x 800mm wide x 300mm high.

5.5 Handling of Birds

Birds may only be taken out of their crates just before the exercise commences and physically handled for the shortest possible period.

Guide

The Judge must be ready to commence the exercise before the first bird is taken from a crate. Subsequent birds may only be taken from the crates when the next dog is coming into line

5.6 Shooting of Game

Released birds must be shot using shotguns with suitable ammunition. Sufficient, competent guns must be present to ensure effective culling of birds. It is the responsibility of the Senior Judge to ensure that, in the event of a wounded bird not being quickly retrieved, the Ratings is stopped, and an official instructed to dispatch the bird swiftly and humanely. Ducks must always be dispatched with a small caliber weapon.

Guide

Shot size between 6 and 7½, with minimum 24g load, for pigeons; and Shot size between 5 and 6, with minimum 28g load, for larger birds.

DEFINITIONS COURSE

An area as close as possible to natural hunting conditions, with cover to game birds and large enough conducive to permit full time requirements for each level of the Shooting Ratings classes.

BIRD FIELD

An area of land of approximately 2.2 Hectares (10117sq. metres), similar to the course with sufficient cover to hide and hold a planted game bird. The bird field is at the end of and is a natural continuation of the course.

COLLARED

The act of leading a dog away by the collar from an area after a shot has been fired over a dog on "Point" or "Stop" to flush on the course or bird field where a retrieve is required and the bird has been missed by the official guns.

CONTROLLED BREAK

A dog that moves before commanded to retrieve, may be stopped by voice and /or hand signal from the handler. Dog must have all four (4) feet inside of the circle to be defined as being under control. Handler may not touch the dog.

DELIVER TO HAND

A dog that has made a retrieve must stand or sit close and not release the bird until commanded or handler touches the bird.

HARD MOUTHING

Dog chews the bird during the retrieve in such a way that all the judges declare the bird unfit for the table.

BACK

Dog stops with or without command from handler upon seeing his Brace-mate on "Point".

LIVE BIRD

Any bird capable of flight.

PLANTED BIRD

Any bird that is placed in cover.

RELEASE

Handler gives the command to send the dog, and or/may touch the dog once.

RESTRAINED

Holding the dog, holding the collar, holding dog and collar or leashing the dog.

STEADY TO WING AND SHOT

The dog on "Point" does not move while the handler flushes the bird and when the shot is fired, and moves only when commanded to do so.
