

KUSA

Annual report for the National subcommittee of Dog Jumping 2016/7

29 October 2017

Well done to Kwa Zulu Natal for hosting this year's South African Dog Jumping Championships at the Shongweni Equestrian Club along with the Kusa Nationals. Hosting such an event requires time and dedication. It was one of the most memorable.

Congratulations again to the Champions for 2017. Esprit with Tracey Lander, Bowie with Annaret Meintjes and Volt with Alett Reed. It was a really exciting final jump off with worthy champions.

During the course of this year we had a number of new judges qualify, new young judges qualifying is always a good healthy sign. We all need to support our young judges to ensure we keep them motivated to contribute to our sport.

Schedule 5D has once again gone through some minor and major changes. This shows that the sport is evolving as the training and handling is improving it creates the need to change various rules. This is a natural process in any sport.

We as a sub-committee need to focus in the upcoming year on ensuring our existing judges are confident in the rule changes that have been brought about over the last year.

Kind Regards

Convener of Dog Jumping
